

Dr. Whitney Cowell is a licensed psychologist and licensed attorney currently living and practicing in Denver, Colorado. Dr. Cowell is a graduate of Palo Alto University and Golden Gate University School of Law's Joint J.D./Ph.D. program, and she recently completed a forensic psychology postdoctoral fellowship on the Forensic Evaluation Service at Mississippi State Hospital. Dr. Cowell currently works as the unit psychologist on the Denver Restoration and Transition Unit, providing competency restoration treatment services and general mental health programming to individuals housed at the Denver County Jail. She also maintains her own private practice which specializes in conducting forensic mental health evaluations, including competency to proceed and violence risk assessments.