

Dr. Kathryn Olson has been a licensed psychologist in Mississippi since 2019. She is employed as a forensic evaluator at Mississippi State Hospital where she conducts criminal forensic evaluations, most often of a defendant's competence to proceed legally and mental state at the time of the alleged offense. She has testified as an expert witness in trials where the defendant has plead Not Guilty by Reason of Insanity (NGRI). Dr. Olson also has prior experience conducting civil forensic evaluations including parental fitness and compensation and pension. She currently is maintaining and expanding her private part-time work, conducting private civil and criminal forensic evaluations.
