

Christina Simmons
Birth Mother - Mississippi

Christina Simmons is a mother of six children. Her family became involved with the child welfare system due to parenting issues. This led to the placement of the children into the foster care system. Christina worked hard to complete a case plan and her family was able to successfully reunify after approximately six months of separation.

In addition to focusing on becoming a consistent, positive parent role model for her children, she also worked hard to complete vocational college in 2017 and she became licensed as a Certified Clinical Medical Assistant. She devoted a year and worked in child psychology and family medicine. Her passion for pursuing specialized training and her zeal for providing care to children and families carries over into her personal life.

Christina Simmons is now a certified peer support specialist in the state of Mississippi. She uses her lived expertise to help parents and families navigate open cases in child welfare.

Christina states, all things are possible with God 1st in our lives, we must be the change we want to see. Not only in child welfare but in our everyday lives. No matter what, children need the voices of their mothers and fathers, and that should push us all to be better humans; so that we will see a brighter future in the generations that will come after us.”
